PLANE RIDES FOR DEAFNESS.

There have been a number of stories printed recently about airplane rides as a cure for deafness. Hearing has been restored, it has been asserted, by precipitous descents this is all about "time, brought a monstrous kettle out. Tushing back. "The table's set," nations in both hemispheres have been on tip toes awaiting the result of the election. Today these peoples this is all about "this is all about." from high altitudes in planes.

Field, L. I., comes out with the declaration that these "cures"
Tonight we all will have a real good are not only ineffective, but actually dangerous.

The sudden change in air pressure, he says, is often enough in itself to burst the eardrums. Add to this the fact that in itself to burst the eardrums. Add to this the fact that there is always a chance of a fatal accident when a plane is doing violent stunts, and the further fact that the fright induced in the patient by the sudden dips and swirls may have serious consequences, and you have a pretty strong list of

A good physician, says Major March, can, in his own office, help a deaf person as much as any airplane ride.

MORE WORK PER MAN.

Government reports aren't always the most interesting reading in the world, but now and then they contain statements that provoke thought.

The Department of Commerce recently issued a report on the nation's business for the first half of 1928. After pointing out that business conditions were good and that production was high, the report made this amazing statement:

"In manufacturing, the output per worker averaged about 43 per cent higher in 1927 than in 1919."

That one sentence contains implications of a whole new social and economic system. It will bear a good deal of pondering. Man's capacity to make things has increased enormously. The results will be of incalculable scope.

NEW WAYS TO GET KILLED.

Human nature and human standards being what they are, the number of ways of getting into a fatal argument is almost infinite. But James Smith of Manchester, Ky., found one that seems to be unique.

Smith happened into a residence in the mountains in which a prayer meeting was in progress. Sitting down, he lighted a cigaret and puffed away. A tall mountaineer arose to remonstrate. Bitter words followed; and a moment later someone produced a shotgun and Smith was shot to death.

Getting killed on account of a cigaret is a new one. The little story helps to give a picture of what life among some of the isolated mountain towns of the interior is like.

Honduras elected a new president without bloodshed. Must be some kind of plot hatching down there.

Two doctors at the University of Wisconsin report successfully with a cure for insanity. But as yet no report of any of the duffers burning their clubs has been received.

An International Congress for Wronged Husbands will convene in January. It is hoped they'll all get home in time to shovel the snow off the sidewalks.

The Egyptians had the prohibition problem 3000 years ago, but it must have been pretty hard to hit a pedestrian with one of those stone-wheeled wagons.

The French are taking a lot of interest in us since the election, says a dispatch from Paris. Well, if they won't give it, it's some consolation to have them take it.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

WHY THE AMAZING VOTE? The secret is out. The unknown uantity is discovered. The recipe for getting out the vote" is now known to all the world. For years in Presidential and other campaigns we have agonized over getting out the electorate, arousing the indifferent voters, attempting to diagnose and cure that civic disease fatal to good government-failure to vote, but all these efforts were apparently of no avail. Then almost overnight came the phenomonal registration, 43,000,000 It worried and perplexed the politicians; they couldn't classify those unexpected voters, they didn't know how to prepare for them; they didn't know what effect they would have on this or that candidate. On election day the millions came trooping in; they came from the cities and the towns and the rural districts, men and women who had never before found time or taken the trouble to vote. As was to be expected a large part of this unprecedented vote was of the women. Never since the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment gave them the opportunity to drop a ballot in the box on election day had they been so tremendously interested, so excited, so enthusiastic over their franchise privileges. This year they saw, in definite political terms, questions which came right into their homes, which affected their family life; and over the garden wall, in the market, at the club, in the misthough the candidates were not of The hunter sat right up in bed. their traditional political parties.

WAR VETERAN TO CELEBRATE 112th THANKSGIVING DAY

Maryland Man Will Have Birthday on Turkey Day

Westernport, Md., Nov. 28-Burvige Coleman Trannum, the country's oldest Civil War veteran, will celebrate his 112th Thanksgiving tomorrowand he says that each year Thanksgiving is better than it was before. Born in Richmond, Va., in 1816,

"For all the things in the world I'm thankful, but my friends are my greatest comforts," he says. "But I have so many blessings they are beyond recall.'

He talks in stilted, old-fashioned phrases like that, does this old man who has lived a dozen years past the century mark. It's easy to understand why he does; after all, he was a middle-aged man when the Civil War

The new Ford has a very simple and effective lubrication system

THE lubrication system for the engine of the new Ford is as simple in principle as water running down-hill.

A gear pump in the bottom of the oil pan raises the oil to the valve chamber reservoir. From here it flows on to the main crankshaft bearings and the front camshaft bearing. Overflow oil drops into the oil pan tray and runs into troughs through which the connecting rods pass.

As the ends of these rods strike the oil they scoop up a supply for the connecting rod bearing. At the same time they set up a fine spray that lubricates the pistons and other moving parts.

From the tray the oil runs into the bottom of the pan, and is again drawn up through a fine mesh screen and pumped to the valve chamber.

This system is so effective that the five-quart contents of the oil pan pass through the pump twice in every mile when you are traveling at only 30 miles an hour. Yet there is only one movable part—the oil pump.

As a matter of fact, the lubrication system for the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no service

There is just one thing for you to do, but it is a very important thing . . . watch the oil! Change the oil every 500 miles and be sure the indicator rod never registers below low (L).

If the oil level is allowed to fall below low, the supply becomes insufficient to oil all parts as they should be oiled.

To insure best performance it is also advisable to have the chassis of your car lubricated every 500 miles. This has been made easy through the use of the high pressure grease gun system.

Proper oiling and greasing mean so much to the life of your car that they should not be neglected or carelessly done.

See your Ford dealer regularly. He is especially well-fitted to lubricate the new Model A car and he will do a good, thorough job at a fair price.

SHIFT WITHOUT CLASHING AT ANY SPEED

Last Year's Improvements Can't Win This Year's Buyer

N the new Cadillacs, La Salles and Fleetwoods there are 8 fundamental improvements. One of the most important is the Silent Shift Transmission. It makes driving simpler-easier-and safer-in traffic or on the open road. With the Silent Shift Transmission you can shift gears at any speed - without clashing. But there is nothing new to learn, for this transmission is standard design, so improved as to give vital advantages.

We sincerely hope that you will accept our invitation to drive one of these delightful cars. To do so involves no obligation whatever.

POINTERS FOR PARENTS

"Look here," said Ted's father to Ted's mother, "every time I tell him to do something he answers that you've given him other orders. We Wish to Give Thanks To Our Customers

Our ideals have been sincerity of purpose coupled with fair dealings in every respect to our friends and patrons. You have been responsible for the constant growth and success of our business. We have now enlarged our barber shop, giving more comfort to rest room for our customers. The same location, but extended next door north of main, old entrance. In this day and age no one is ignorant of the possibility and probability of the transmission of disease by the use of infected instruments. Our sterlizer will prevent them, in the way of combs, brushes, shears, razors, etc.

Hair lay will be given free to each school child hair cut. This remains good until school is out in June, 1929.

Wishing you all a Happy Thanksgiving.
